MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

THIS MATTER is before the Court sua sponte, following its review of the Notice of Removal [Doc. 1], filed by Defendant on March 20, 2019. The Court has a duty to determine whether subject-matter jurisdiction exists sua sponte. See Tuck v. United Servs. Auto. Ass’n, 859 F.2d 842, 844 (10th Cir. 1988). The Court, having considered the Notice of Removal, the applicable law, and being otherwise fully advised in the premises, concludes that the Notice fails to allege the necessary facts of citizenship in order to sustain diversity jurisdiction. Therefore, the Court will order Defendant to file an amended notice of removal no later than April 8, 2019, if the necessary jurisdictional allegations can be made in compliance with the dictates of Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Background

On March 20, 2019, Defendant filed its Notice of Removal under 28 U.S.C. § 1332. [Doc. 1] at 1. The Notice asserts that there is complete diversity between Plaintiff and Defendant and that the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000. Id. at 2. In support of its claim of diversity of citizenship, Defendant alleges that it is a “resident” of Ohio and that, upon information and belief, Plaintiff is a “resident” of New Mexico. Id. Defendant makes no allegation as to its corporate nature, i.e., whether it is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, or some other type of business entity. Nor does Defendant make any allegation as to the “citizenship” of either party. See id.

Legal Standard

The federal statute providing for the removal of cases from state to federal court was intended to restrict rather than enlarge removal rights. Greenshields v. Warren Petroleum Corp., 248 F.2d 61, 65 (10th Cir. 1957). Federal courts, therefore, are to strictly construe the removal statutes and to resolve all doubts against removal. Fajen v. Found. Reserve Ins. Co., Inc., 683 F.2d 331, 333 (10th Cir. 1982). The removing party bears the burden of establishing the requirements for federal jurisdiction. Martin v. Franklin Capital Corp., 251 F.3d 1284, 1290 (10th Cir. 2001).

Discussion

District courts have original jurisdiction of all civil actions where the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is between citizens of different States. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a) (2018). When a plaintiff files a civil action in state court over which the federal district courts would have original jurisdiction based on diversity of citizenship, the defendant may remove the action to federal court, provided that no defendant is a citizen of the State in which such action is brought. See 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a), (b). Jurisdiction under § 1332 requires diversity of citizenship. The party asserting jurisdiction must plead citizenship distinctly and affirmatively; allegations of residence are not enough. Siloam Springs Hotel, L.L.C. v. Century Sur. Co., 781 F.3d 1233, 1238 (10th Cir. 2015). Domicile, the equivalent of state citizenship, requires more than mere residence; domicile exists only when residence is coupled with an intention to remain in the state indefinitely. Middleton v. Stephenson, 749 F.3d 1197, 1200 (10th Cir. 2014).

Determining the citizenship of a limited liability companies is different from determining the citizenship of a corporation under § 1332. A corporation is deemed to be a citizen of the state in which it is incorporated and in which it maintains its principal place of business. See § 1332(c). Limited liability companies, however, are treated as partnerships for citizenship purposes and are, therefore, citizens of each and every state in which any member is a citizen. Siloam Springs, 781 F.3d at 1234.

A notice of removal that fails to specify the necessary facts to establish diversity jurisdiction is defective. Hendrix v. New Amsterdam Casualty Co., 390 F.2d 299, 300 (10th Cir. 1968). Technical defects, however, may be cured by amendment of the notice. See id. at 300–02 (permitting amendment of notice of removal to allege principal place of business of defendant and citizenship, rather than mere residence, of plaintiff); Buell v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 321 F.2d 468, 471 (10th Cir. 1963) (permitting amendment after appeal to allege corporation’s principal place of business); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1653 (stating that defective allegations of jurisdiction may be amended, upon terms, in the trial or appellate courts). As the Tenth Circuit explained in Hendrix, disallowing amendment in circumstances comparable to those in this case would be “too grudging with reference to the controlling statute [28 U.S.C. § 1653], too prone to equate imperfect allegations of jurisdiction with the total absence of jurisdictional foundations, and would tend unduly to exalt form over substance and legal flaw-picking over the orderly disposition of cases properly committed to federal courts.” Hendrix, 390 F.2d at 301 (footnotes omitted).

Here, the facts set forth in the Notice of Removal [Doc. 1] do not sufficiently establish the citizenship of Plaintiff or Defendant. First, the Notice alleges the residency of the parties but does not mention their citizenship. Relatedly, Defendant’s corporate nature—which is essential to diversity jurisdiction—is unclear. To adequately allege its citizenship, Defendant must make its corporate nature clear, i.e. indicate whether it is a corporation partnership, limited liability company, or some other type of business entity. The corporate nature matters because, for example, citizenship of a corporation is pleaded differently than citizenship of an LLC. The Court will give Defendant the opportunity to file an amended notice of removal to properly allege the citizenship of the parties. Defendant must allege the citizenship of each and every member of the Plaintiff LLC. Defendant must also allege its own corporate nature and allege its state(s) of citizenship accordingly.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED that Defendant amend the Notice of Removal [Doc. 1] to properly allege diversity of citizenship, if such allegations can be made in compliance with the dictates of Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, no later than April 8, 2019.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that if such an amended notice is not filed by April 8, 2019, the Court may dismiss this action without prejudice.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
